

THE AGENT

A four-agent swarm to be the best version of yourself.

Body, mind, nutrition, sports. Holy is your holistic health & longevity coaching squad: four Claude-powered coaches, each trained on its own discipline and on your own data. A normal coach hands you a plan once — Holy recalculates yours continuously, reviewing the estimated plan against actuals and your health KPIs, and adapting it overnight.

1

THE COACHING SQUAD

Four coaches, each trained on their craft

WHAT

A lead Coach for training & load, Nutri for fuelling, Doc for sports medicine, Mind for sports psychology. Each persona is trained on its own specialist playbook — and coaches from your data, not generic advice.

IMPACT

Four experts almost nobody has, without four experts' noise. A dropped HRV becomes a decision, not a 11pm search.

CONTEXT

- > coach.md · nutri.md · doc.md · mind.md
- > Trigger tables · who fires, and when
- > Hub-and-spoke · specialists never talk directly

4 COACHES · 1 VOICE

TRAINED ON YOUR DATA

2

THE DAILY BRIEF

Adapts overnight to your own data

WHAT

Every morning, one brief: the numbers first, Coach's read, today's session, the next seven days as planned-versus-adjusted, three micro-actions and one 1% habit action. Rebuilt each night from the overnight sync, plan-versus-actual training and your health KPIs.

IMPACT

This is the gold. A normal coach writes the plan once; Holy reviews estimated plan against actuals and recalibrates, so the plan bends to reality instead of scoring you against it.

CONTEXT

- > Nutri daily · Doc & Mind on triggers
- > Parallel fan-out when triggers stack
- > Dashboard · vitals, plan-vs-actual, countdown

THE A-TEAM

Part of a larger Agent A-team

WHAT

Holy reads shared memory from the sibling agents each morning before composing the brief. Signals compound across the team: a heavy work week changes how a training week gets paced.

THE TEAM

- Josh · career & pipeline
- Rachel · market & company intel
- Holy · holistic health & longevity
- Cody · verification & connections
- Warren · financial investment analysis
- Wally · narrative & positioning
- Leonie · content & social
- CoWork · sprint orchestration

THE LOOP

How Holy runs a morning.

Before you are out of bed, the swarm has synced your overnight data, reviewed the plan against your actuals and health KPIs, decided which specialists the day actually needs, fanned them out in parallel, and compressed everything into one brief you read once.

DAILY PIPELINE

Sync → route → fan out → one brief

The trigger tables are the product: a specialist that fires every day is expensive wallpaper, and one that never fires is a broken tripwire.

- 01

Sync

• TRIGGER

Wearable and manual quick-log data pulled into one store. Local files authoritative; dashboard downstream.
- 02

Read the team

• AGENTIC

Vault notes from sibling agents, discovered by listing the directory. A heavy work week changes how this week gets paced.
- 03

Route

• TRIGGER

Trigger tables decide who fires. Nutri always. Doc on N-day threshold breaches or symptoms. Mind on phase, failures, flat language.
- 04

Fan out

• AGENTIC

Fired specialists run in parallel, never serially. Each returns a short, attributable read in its own voice.
- 05

Synthesise

• AGENTIC

Coach recalibrates the plan against your actuals, then ships one brief: the numbers, the read, every specialist quoted, today's session, the next seven days plan-versus-adjusted, three micro-actions and one closer.

MODEL ROUTING

Sync, parsing & threshold checks are deterministic code — no tokens spent. Models run only where judgment is needed: the specialists and the brief, on Sonnet. The conditional triggers do the rest of the cost control — specialists run only when their tables fire.

Your morning brief

< 2 MIN READ

One message. Specialists appear only when they were called.

- 1

Countdown header

Days to race, phase, build week, sessions banked.
- 2

Coach's read

One sentence tying a KPI to today's constraint. Numbers and feel, in that order.
- 3

Today's session

The exact session from the plan — stated, never asked — with the one cue that matters.
- 4

The next seven days

Every day twice: as promised, and as yesterday's actuals changed it. Volume holds on the easy days, never the long run.
- 5

Nutri · the nutritionist

The daily fuelling micro-action, plus vitamins & prebiotics. Specific foods, never food groups.
- 6

Doc · the sports doctor

Only if a trigger fired: a flag level and what to actually do about it.
- 7

Mind · sports psychologist

Only when it matters: taper, race week, a bad session, a flat week.
- 8

Three micro-actions

Concrete, sequenced, done by lunch. The section that matters.
- 9

Today's 1%

NEW

One small habit action aimed at a named KPI and the number it chases. Rotates daily, never repeats a lever.
- 10

Travel mode

NEW

Trips are known to the plan: a realistic weekly target, the long run moved not dropped, jetlag read from the calendar.
